The front of the organza gown was overlaid with Chantilly lace with French pearls and tridacene sequins. The bodice was styled with a scalloped scooped neckline and long tapering sleeves. The puffed skirt swept into a circular chapel train.

Her coronet of rhinestones held in place a tiered veil of imported illusion. Her bouquet was composed of pink champagne roses.

They laughed last winter when Boston owner Tom Yawkey traded Jimmy Piersall, his flashy center fielder, to Cleveland for Gary Geiger, a nondescript flycatcher and Vic Wertz, a fading first baseman.

Joe Cronin, then the Red Sox general manager, and Mike Higginson, then the field manager, were in no mood for laughter. They were quite upset when Yawkey, who had just traded Piersall, told them that he was making a deal with Cleveland.

Banks Day Win MVP Title Again

36th Homer Helps Cubs Beat SF 5-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ernie Banks, Chicago's shaggy shortstop, may become the first player in National League history to be voted the circuit's most valuable player in two years in succession.

Two National Leaguers—Stan Musial and Roy Campanella—won the coveted honor three times and two others—Rogers Hornsby and Carl Hubbell—won it twice but nobody has done it twice in succession.

Banks strengthened his claim Sunday, banging a two-run homer—his 36th of the season—in the Cubs' defeat of the San Francisco Giants 5-4 for their third victory in the four-game series.

BANKS, BATTING 312, leads both leagues with 112 runs batted in and tied for the lead with Washington's Harmon Killebrew in home runs. Last year he led both leagues with 47 home runs and 129 runs batted in.

Despite the defeat, the Giants retained their 2½ game lead over Los Angeles when St. Louis, defeated the Dodgers 5-3. Milwaukee's third place Braves split with Pittsburgh, winning the second of their three games.

THE RED SOX scored all four runs in the first inning. The Indians lost 3-0. The Yankees won 2-0. The Red Sox won 2-0.

Ernie Stands Firm In Bean Ball Charges

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, the National League's home run leader, today stood firm in his charge that Jack Harbeck deliberately hit him with a pitched ball despite an equally pitched denial by the San Francisco right-hander.

The normally soft-spoken left stop made the charge Sunday and it brought an immediate denial from Harbeck.

Bankers returned to the lineup for Sunday's game and belted a two-run homer in the first inning. He did not make his charge until after the Cubs' 4-3 victory Sunday.
